OPERA LOVERS TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE AMERICAN'S CLUB OFFER

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S Club offer to opera lovers has struck a responsive chord. The idea has met with approval from a wide area. Although it is only two days since the first announcement was made, letters endorsing cheer or money have reached the AMERICAN in every mail. Judging by the uniform favor with which opera lovers have responded to the offer, the club is expected to be successful in its endeavor to make it a permanent feature.

The club membership has grown in leaps and bounds. The manager of the Popular Opera Club, Mr. J. H. Sullivan, has been kept on the job by the flood of applications. The club has been organized from all over Massachusetts, and from New York, N. H. and other sections of the country.

Owen Moran, who defeated Battling Nelson and retired the Terrible Dane from the ring, is one of the most popular fighters in the world. He is a type by himself.

Moran is a married man, and when opportunity gives him a chance he devotes a great deal of time to his wife. When he is not with her, he is, for the most part, looking for the purpose of maintaining her in what he is pleased to term comfort.

was the problem that looked so. If it might require the judgment of Solomon in the Suffolk Probate Court, Mrs. Letitia Nickerson of East Boston and Judge Grant agreed to revoke a decree permitting the care of her two-year-old daughter, Evelyn Lettie Nickerson, by Mr. and Mrs. Allen T. Ball of Troy, Vt. Mrs. Nickerson alleged the adoption was secured by fraud and misrepresentation, and that the child has not had the proper attention and care at the Ball home. Mr. and Mrs. Ball both testified that the child was getting the best of care. Judge Grant then dismissed the petition.

We shall make of this earth a beautiful garden, inhabited by safe, happy human beings. We shall take pride in it, and enjoy it by day. Our intellectual lives will begin with the going down of the sun and the gradual appearance of those mighty neighbors in space that alone will interest the thinking man of future days.

Old man Kilmessaire jerked me out of the house to-day, but he could not get me so easily. I came back, and he tried to kick me out again. Revenge is mine.

Now I am barred out of the house again. My hotel will not stand for this any more. I might just as well be a hawker as a burglar in this country. I shall emigrate—as soon as I can the fare.
